

The City of New York Office of Chief Medical Examiner Forensic Pathology Fellowship

NYC

Highlights of the OCME Fellowship Training Program:

- 4-6 Forensic Pathology fellowship positions per year
- Optional 2nd year fellowship in Forensic Neuro / Cardiac Pathology
  - Annual Salary: $155,000
- 25+ Senior Medical Examiner staff who are interested in teaching
- Structured practical and didactic curriculum including daily morning triage, afternoon case conference, weekly Grand Rounds, rotations in Scene Investigations, Toxicology, Anthropology, Human Remains Recovery course, NYPD Homicide course, and more
- Large network of 100+ alumni, including over 20 former or current Chief Medical Examiners
- In-house laboratories including Toxicology, Histology, Forensic Biology and Molecular Genetics for Postmortem Genetic Testing with certified genetic counselor on-staff, and world-class experts in Forensic Anthropology and Mass Disaster / Emergency Management
- Unparalleled forensic case variety with jurisdiction that includes 8+ million residents and 60+ million tourists
- Live and work in the most vibrant and diverse city in the world!

To apply, either:

1) Submit CV, personal statement, and three letters of reference, including one from residency program director to Nancy Izquierdo

or

2) Submit application through ERAS

OCME-NYC participates in the NRMP Match

Audition rotation is no longer required

Contacts:

Peter T. Lin, MD
(Program Director)
peterlin@ocme.nyc.gov

Nancy Izquierdo (Program Coordinator)
nizquierdo@ocme.nyc.gov

